

October 2024 Newsletter

Topic of the Month: Infection Control

Infection control actions reduce the risk of spreading germs in healthcare settings and helps keep ourselves and others safe. Remember to practice proper hand hygiene, use necessary personal protective equipment, and properly clean and disinfect surfaces and tools.

Visit the CDC's PFL website for more information.

Project Firstline in Action

Recently, the PFL team was praised for a training on Hand Hygiene. Here are a few testimonials from the session...

"It was very important for everyone to get an update on handwashing"

"The whole session was very informative"

"Very enjoyable and great demo at the end"

Events in Healthcare

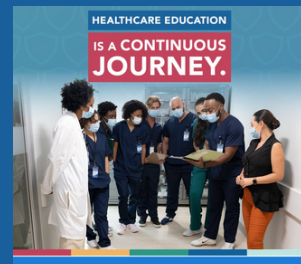

International Infection Prevention Week,

Infection prevention and control is at the heart of PFL's work, so we find it essential to highlight this global event on October 13th-19th. Our PFL team also spotlights the incredible role all healthcare workers play in IPC.
